A MARRIAGE IN CAIRO.

(From Harper's Weekly.)
There was a young girl married while I was in Cairo. The streets around the palace of her father were hung with flags for a week; the garden about his house was enclosed with a tent which was worth in money $20,000, and which was as beautiful to the eyes as the interior of a mosque; for a week the sheikhs who rented the estates of the high contracting parties were fed at their expense; for a week men sang and bands played and the whole neighborhood feasted; and on the last night everybody went to the wedding and drank coffee and smoked cigarettes and listened to a young man singing Arabian love-songs. I naturally did not see the bride. The women who did see her described her as very beautiful, barely sixteen years old, and covered with pearls and diamonds. She was weeping bitterly; her mother, it appeared, had arranged the match. I did not see her, but I saw the bridegroom. He was fat and stupid, and over sixty, and he had white hair and a white beard. A priest recited the Koran before him at the door of the house, and a band played, and the Haying is in full swing. The acreage is large and the yield fairly abundant. The quality will be better, it being freer of clover than last year. Grimshaw & Co. have a few lots of pressed hay yet to clear out, when they will have finished operations for the season.

Mrs. Charles Ball is visiting parents and friends at Kaladar station.
Mr. W. H. Perry, Napanee, preached Sunday evening, at the White church, in the absence of the pastor, filling the work of Rev. J. J. Rae, Napanee.

We are pleased to see Frank Howard of Toronto, in the vicinity, renewing acquaintances.

As was previously intimated a reception by the Morven circuit Methodists was to have been tendered Rev. J. S. McMullen on his return from conference, but postponed on account of the illness of Mrs. McMullen, as her home near Lindsay. It was learned that on Wednesday of last week she was to return, and accordingly the original project was carried out. A company to the number of about one hundred gathered at the parsonage, and spent a most enjoyable evening socially. Mrs. McMullen was completely overcome, being entirely unaware of the proceedings until reaching the parsonage. The popularity of the pastor and his wife was made plainly manifest on this occasion.

Visitors:—T. B. German and Mr. and Mrs. D. Henwood and family, of Napanee; Morley Shibley, Richmond; Mr. John Wilson, Shannonville; H. Howard, of Toronto, and Mrs. Sears, Lindsay.

NAPANEE MILLS.

The farmers are very busy just now taking off their harvest.

The Orangemen had a very rainy day to go to the celebration, but they got there just the same.

We are glad to see Mr. Fred Howard once more among our number, but not to stay.

The Patrons of Industry had a nice day for their picnic. Napanee Mills was well represented. They all say they had a good time and the band played "Annie Rooney."

A sad accident occurred on Tuesday night. Mr. Grant's little boy, Edgie

MORVEN.

A very successful Strawberry and ice cream festival was held by the Morven circuit in the brick church on the evening of June 30th where all were abundantly supplied with delightful refreshments after which a very enjoyable programme was rendered by members of Morven choir assisted by Revs. H. I. Allen, W. Lambert and W. W. Perry. Mr. M. S. Madole, of Napanee, did honor to his position as chairman and delivered a very pleasing address. Proceeds, $57.75.

On the return of Mr. and Mrs. McMullen to Morven from conference, they found the parsonage in possession of about 125 of the members and friends to welcome them back and express their sincere pleasure at finding Mrs. McMullen so much improved in health. A supper such as Morven can provide had been arranged and to which ample justice was done, after which an evening of pleasant chat and music was indulged in. Mr. McMullen in a short address very kindly thanked the friends for their kindness and encouragement and hoped the present year would be one of great benefit to the church. After prayer all returned home being well pleased with their evening's enjoyment.

TAMWORTH.

Tamworth Orange Lodge celebrated the 12th at Colebrook. There are upwards of sixty in the lodge. Several of our town people spent the 12th at Arden, some at Colebrook and some at Roblin. The rain, it seems, never makes much difference to an Orangeman.

J. A. Floyd and Stewart Lockridge have gone camping to Puzzell lake.

The Methodist pastor Rev. J. J. Rice, delivered an address at Roblin on the 12th.

Court parred off quietly on Tuesday, Judge Wilkison presiding.

The boys came home from camp well sunburned on Saturday.

Lawyer Herrington was in town on Tuesday attending court.

Charles R. Jones has returned home after a visit to Cincinnati and the World's Fair. Chas. Sherman, Kingston, is visiting at Mrs. Sherman's, his mother.

Miss Coxall, Napanee, is visiting at Mrs. Sherman's.

Miss O'Brien, Napanee, is visiting at her father's, Mr. John O'Brien.

A new ice cream parlor started in town. Come boys let's start one. This only makes three.

KINGSTON.

The city fathers met in solemn convocation on Monday night and wrestled for over three hours with the reports of the various committees with a view to an adjournment through hot weather. The Kingston council will compare favorably with any other councils in the province so far as intelligence is concerned, for with hardly any exception every member has a fair knowledge of Municipal law and possesses the ability to legislate in the very best interests of the city. A goodly number of them are possessed of oratorical ability, while others are able to express themselves in a clear and concise manner. The much discussed extension of Sydenham street and the very costly arbitration in connection with the scheme came in for a good share of attention. The cost is estimated at about $14,000 and it was decided to submit a by-law asking the ratepayers to grant the additional amount required over the original of all persons appearing by the last revised Assessment Roll of the said municipality to be entitled to vote in the said municipality at elections for members of the Legislative Assembly, and at municipal elections. And that said list was first posted up at my office in Adolphustown on July 13th, 1893, and remains there for inspection. Electors are called upon to examine the said list and if any omissions or any errors are found therein take immediate proceedings to have the said errors corrected according to law.

over sixty, and he had white hair and a white beard. A priest recited the Koran before him at the door of the house, and a band played, and the people cheered the Khedive three times and then the crowd parted, and the bridegroom was marched to the door which led to the stairs, at the top of which the girl awaited him. Two grinning eunuchs crouched on this dark staircase, with lamps held high above their heads, and closed the door behind him. His sixteen-year-old bride has him to herself now—he and his eunuchs—until he or she dies. We could show similitudes between this wedding and some others in civilized lands, but it is too serious a matter to be cynical about.

MR. LAURIER IN QUEBEC.

Quebec, July 11.—Judging by the reception Mr. Laurier received at Waterloo on Saturday last and at St. Anne to-day his political tour through the province of Quebec will be a succession of triumphal ovations. The leader of the opposition arrived here yesterday evening by the Richelieu & Ontario steamer, and was received at the wharf by hundreds of citizens, happy to welcome the distinguished orator to the town. He was escorted to his hotel by a torchlight procession headed by a band of music, the crowd cheering over and over again. An address was presented to him, and he replied with his usual eloquence. Mr. Monette, M.P. for Napierville, and Mr. Bruneau, M.P. for Richelieu, also made speeches.

This morning Mr. Laurier and a large party of electors started at eight o'clock for St. Anne by the steamer Arthur. They were soon accompanied by the steam yacht Ste. Anne, which brought the Berthier contingent, including Hon. L. Sylvester, Mr. Beausoleil, M.P., Mr. Tarte, M.P., Mr. Chenevert, ex-M.P.P., and others. At Yamaska Dr. Migneault's yacht was waiting for the party.

The gay little flotilla arrived at St. Anne at 12 o'clock, and was met by a big crowd of electors from all parts of the counties of Yamaska and Richelieu. Mr. Drolet; Mr. St. Martin, the warden of the county; Mr. Methot, mayor of the parish, were on the wharf and escorted Mr. Laurier and his friends to the seigneurial mansion, where dinner was served.

The meeting began at 2 o'clock. Mr. St. Martin, warden of the county, opened it by a few appropriate remarks. Mr. Bruneau was the first speaker, and dealt with the political questions of the day. He was very cordially received.

Mr. G. A. Dorlet then presented Mr. Laurier with an elaborate address, which is in itself an eloquent vindication of Mr. Laurier's policy.

The leader's reply was a magnificent effort. Mr. Laurier was in his best form, and probably never spoke with greater effect before a popular audience.

He was succeeded by Mr. Monette, M.P.P., whose short and pointed speech was loudly cheered.

Mr. Wilfrid Larose, advocate, delivered a short eloquent address, and Mr. Tarte closed the meeting with a review of the school question.

Quite an excitement was caused in our usually quiet village by posters being displayed announcing a vaudance for Tuesday night in the school house. Sorry to state it was a failure as the big medicine man took his flight a few hours before. A few of the braves were there, but they were mum in the absence of their chief. NAPANEE, FRIDAY, JULY 14,

His Excellency the Governor-General will sail from Quebec for England on Saturday, and pending the arrival of the Earl of Aberdeen General Montgomery Moore, commander of Her Majesty's forces in North America, will act as administrator of the government of Canada.

UNCLE Sam stands to lose $57,728,000 on his stock-in-trade of Sherman Bill silver. Financial quackery in the States, like tariff quackery in the Canada, has proved both expensive and inglorious. The tariff has probably cost as much in proportion to population as silver folly in the States.

DURING the last three years that the Reform party held power in the Dominion the annual expenditure on account of superannuation was increased by $4,761, or from $101,627 to $106,588. This increase was more than covered by the increase in contributions to the fund, which were $37,678 in 1875 and $41,856 in 1878. Since 1878, under Tory rule, the outlay for superannuation has been increased from $106,588 to $253,679. Last year the outlay for superannuation increased from $241,110 to $253,679, though the contributions from civil servants to the superannuation fund were only $62,824 in 1891 and $63,862 in 1892.

FREE SCHOOLBOOKS.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE UNIQUE SYSTEM OF BROOKLYN.

The Board of Education of the City Spends Nearly $100,000 Every Year In Fitting Out Pupils For Their Studies—How the Requisitions Are Made Up.

The thanks of nearly 100,000 public school pupils of Brooklyn and their parents are due to the board of education for at least one of the features of that body's administration—the free book system. It is a fact not commonly known that the pupils of the public schools in this city are furnished with all the outfit of books, slates and paper necessary throughout their course at school free of charge. To do this entails an expense of about $100,000 every year and a vast deal of work in procuring and distributing the required supplies. Only one other city in the state, that of New York, treats its school children as munificently. The system has been in vogue in Brooklyn for some years and is found to be so satisfactory that no change is expected or even considered at all.

The books used in this city's schools are selected by the board of education's committee on studies, who report their selections to the full board for confirmation before the books are finally listed. There are now on the catalogue of textbooks and works of whatever sort for which need is found to exist in the schools upward of 1,000 different kinds of books ranging from primers to abstruse works on philosophy. The list includes a variety of algebras, arithmetics, books on astronomy, bookkeeping, chemistry, civil government, composition and rhetoric, dictionaries in English and several other languages, books on elocution, etymology, geography, geometry, grammar, history, languages, literature, methods of teaching, physiology, readers, maps, charts, copy books, drawing books, music books and charts, science and natural philosophy and supplementary readers.

The modus operandi of getting the right books in the right quantities to the several schools is this: The principal of a school makes up from reports furnished by his subordinates a requisition which is written out on a blank form with the

AFTER FIFTEEN YEARS.

Terrible Suffering, Edgar Gilroy is entirely cured of Piles by the use of Magic Pile Lotion.

The other day a Times representative while on his rambles around town, happened to drop into Mr. Comstock's stables just off King street east, and after looking over the establishment, had a chat with Edgar Gilroy, who has been in Mr. Comstock's employ for many years as chief horseman. Incidentally in the course of the conversation, Mr. Gilroy remarked that he had been for over 15 years a terrible sufferer from piles, so much so that he had often been compelled to quit work and be laid up for days at a time. In fact he had been more or less troubled with piles for fifteen years. The piles were external and the protrusion was something enormous causing the most frightful agony, and they kept on increasing in severity all the time. He had been treated by several doctors, and had taken nearly all the remedies that were advised for the relief of piles. Some of them gave a little relief for a short time, but the disease always returned worse than ever, in fact never left him. "Three weeks ago," said Mr. Gilroy, "I was taken with the worst attack I ever had. I was out in the country on business at the time and the disease became so bad that I had to come home. I reached home on Thursday the 15th inst., and at once went to bed. I used all the old remedies that I had applied, but they had no effect. The pain was so intense that my yells could be heard a block away. I could neither sit, stand or lie down. The protrusion was extraordinary, worse than ever before. I hardly knew what to do. Not being able to stand any longer, I sent for a physician, who after making an examination, pronounced it one of the most aggravated cases that had ever come under his notice. The doctor said he had heard of cures being effected by the Magic Pile Lotion, manufactured by the Salvator-Magnus Medicine Company of this town, and recommended me to give it a trial. I at once got a bottle of the lotion, and I can assure you I am glad I did. After the third application are to be used, and the price of each book, and the total for the whole requisition. Demands for maps, globes, charts, dictionaries, blackboards, janitors' supplies, etc., must be approved by the chairman of the local committees. The requisitions after passing the committee on libraries are sent to the secretary of the board of education, George G. Brown, who controls the distribution of the supplies for the schools.

The requisitions are tabulated once a week, and upon the basis of the result of the tabulation orders are made out upon the publishers. Lack of room for the storage of the supplies and scarcity of money forbid any considerable quantity of books being carried in stock. All the books are delivered at the bookroom in the office building of the board of education, where they are counted, and each one is stamped "Property Board of Education, City of Brooklyn," and entered on the receiving book. The clerks make up the orders for the several schools, and the packages are sent to their destinations by express.

A separate account of books received and returned is kept at the headquarters of the board of education with each school. The books are charged to the principals, who in turn charge them to the teachers, the latter keeping track of the disposition of the volumes among the pupils. When the books become unfit for use, they are turned in and re-bound if expensive, and if cheap sold for waste paper. All books when they cannot be used any longer, whether fit for rebinding or not, must be returned to the board of education. If pupils willfully destroy them, they are obliged to pay for others to replace the books destroyed. In the case of books lost by pupils the teachers are vested with a certain degree of discretionary power touching what measures if any shall be taken to make good the loss.

How long the average schoolbook lasts is a matter for speculation. The life of the average book differs with the locality of the school and the character of the pupils. In some sections, for instance, the books are converted into playthings for the baby at home, while in others the greatest pride is manifested in preserving the books clean and unimpaired. So, too, a geography of a good kind will last frequently several years, while one season of work is generally the limit of endurance of a primer. Whatever may be the total number of books used up in a year, it is certain that the employees of the board who handle them haven't an overplus of leisure. From the middle of January till March 1 three express wagons are kept constantly on the move distributing the packages to the schools.

The number of pupils on register is about 90,000, so that the per capita cost for books is only a little over $1 per year. In the primary grades, where a large portion of the total registry is found, many of the youngsters require only slates and primers. Higher up, however, in the grammar schools and high schools the cost of books for each pupil, if it were not borne by the board, would range from $3 or $4 to $7 or $8 per year, so that the free book system is universally regarded as a boon to the public school children.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Cranks on Haircutting.

The crank on the subject of haircutting—you've all met him! The worst form of haircutting crankism is probably the man with a poetical fancy, who tries to stick a barber by asking to get his hair cut in some unheard of fashion. I had a man come in once and ask for an "inshoot," sometimes it's a "landscape garden." It was only last week that a big, long legged youngster came in and asked me to cut his hair cattail style.—National Barber.

disappointment of the farmer who has been fooled by his N. P. organ into imagining that high prices and quick sales would result from his enterprise. Another point on which the government organs show equal insincerity is the cool assumption that the hay trade with Britain is likely to grow and continue, and that when Canadians have settled down to divide the profits fairly between the farmer, the merchant and the carrier, a steady and growing trade at present high prices may be counted upon. The present situation in the Old Country is exceptional, and the prices abnormal. In ordinary years very little hay is imported, and prices are nearly fifty per cent. lower than now. Hence it is easy to see that the export hay trade cannot be relied upon as a permanent source of revenue for the Canadian farmers, and those who tempt them to put up with their present disabilities for a little time longer, until relieved by the sale of their surplus grasses, are in no way acting a friendly part.—Herald.

—Boasters are never worth a button with the shank off. Long tongue, short hand. Great talkers, little doers. Dogs that bark most run away when it is time to bite. The leanest pig squeaks the most. It is not the hen that cackles most that lays the most eggs. Saying and doing are two different things. Drums sound loud because there is nothing in them. Good men know themselves too well to chant their own praises. Good cheese sells itself without puffery; and when men are really excellent, people find it out without telling. Bonnce is a sign of folly. If a man is ignorant and holds his tongue, no one will despise; but if he rattles on with an empty pate, and a tongue that brags, he will write out his name in capital letters, and they will be these F. ## THE TAILOR OF MANNHEIM.

He Invented a Bullet Proof Coat, and, Frostol Kings Are at His Feet.

Who could have told before the other day that Mannheim held her epoch making tailor? Who even in Mannheim knew it? Mein Herr Dowe—the miraculous, as he is discovered to be—was known to his fellow citizens as a plain "schneider," of whom something might be made were it possible to multiply him by nine. And now where are the nine men—barring the emperor, Prince Bismarck and Count von Caprivi—who have stirred the fatherland as Herr Dowe has stirred it these few days?

A little while ago Herr Dowe was so impecunious that he was constrained to beg the loan of the pistol wherewith he has privately tried his experiment. This moment he may if he like be rich beyond the dreams of avarice. Emperors are "wiring" him, syndicates are clustering round him, French and Russian spies are trying to bag him, and German detectives—as they appear to be—are following the spies. Most wonderful tailor!

Our correspondent's account makes it clear that the new coat of mail is a rigid garment which the warrior can put on his breast when he faces the foe, or clap on his back when he runs away from him. But it strikes us that the miraculous tailor has not and cannot solve the serious problem of impact. His coat of mail can stop the swiftest bullet, but it cannot destroy the force of the blow. Because a bullet is so small a thing, few people, soldiers excepted, understand how great its weight is at its terrific speed. A soldier receiving a bullet on his coat of mail would in all probability be knocked senseless for a time.

We can fancy him slowly coming to himself again, sitting up and leisurely looking round about him to see how things were going on. He has been technically dead for, say, 5 or 10 most precious minutes. But it is possible that if 80 or 40 per cent of his regiment were in the same position they might just as well, from the general's point of view, be physically dead for all time, and that though lives were saved the day might be lost. A warrior prostrated in that manner might prove a source of perplexity to the Red Cross rescuers and the takers of prisoners.—London News.

The Control of the Nicaragua Canal.

The cost of the Nicaragua canal has been variously estimated. The latest I have seen, and I believe it to be the highest, is $87,000,000. The company engaged in its construction proposes to raise in some way $100,000,000—an excess of $13,000,000 above the estimated cost—to pay interest till the canal is in operation and to provide for contingencies that may arise. The sum is not large if the patronage the canal shall receive proves to be anything like what is predicted and seems probable.

There are differences of views as to how the canal shall be constructed and controlled when in operation. As it will prove most advantageous to our own commerce, and as under public control excessive profits will not be made on the money invested, there is a prevailing sentiment that the government should build it and manage it after it is built; that it should be free to American shipping, and a tax imposed on foreign patrons only to an extent that is necessary to pay the expense of management and repair and a reasonable income on the cost of construction.—Richard H. Wanted—A Broken Down Race Horse.
Alexander Jones, the richest man on the island of Barbadoes, wants an American race horse to beat the Jamaica thoroughbreds that have been carrying everything before them at the Bridgetown barracks. He doesn't want a Salvator, or a Lamplighter, or a Tammany. A horse that can go a mile in about 1:40 is good enough. The Firenze of the Caribbees has a record of 1:40. Mr. Jones always insists on a pedigree, however. He isn't particular about the horse. The Barbadians are "death" on pedigrees. Four years ago a Clifton selling plater—than which there is no more miserable creature on earth—was shipped to a firm in Bridgetown, and nearly all the Jamaica thoroughbreds were driven off the island by him. He swept everything before him. If we could induce the Guttenburg and Gloucester legions to emigrate to Barbadoes with their wretched brutes, something would be gained.—New York Tribune.

The Sun Myths.

It was in Bayard Taylor's day that the sun myth had its vogue. One night at a party Taylor was greatly bored by the persistent efforts of a guest to discuss sun myths. No matter what direction the conversation might take this person would ruthlessly drag it back again to his favorite topic.

At last the distressed poet raised a very interesting question in regard to the threadbare subject. "Did you ever think," he asked, "that the name Smith so common all over the world is derived from sun myth?" No one had ever dreamed of such thing. Max Muller had overlooked the point completely.

"Quite possible, certainly most plausible," said Taylor, "Sun myth, Sunmyth, Smyth, Smith, and some still spell the name with a y." The discussion was ended.—Youth's Companion.

HUBBUB IN THE COMMONS.

SEXTON ORDERED OUT OF THE HOUSE THREE TIMES.

He Took Objection to the Irish Being Called Imprecious and Garrulous—
His Remarks Lead to a Row With Chairman Mellor, Who Tells Him to Withdraw—Gladstone Makes Peace.

LONDON, July 12.—The House of Commons sitting in committee continued last evening the discussion of clause 9 of the Home Rule bill. This clause concerns the question of Irish representation at Westminster.

Henry Seton-Karr, Conservative, moved that the Irish members of the Imperial Parliament be elected by the constituencies which would elect the Irish Legislative Council. Under this amendment the Irish

Cheers and counter-cheers were given when he made this statement. As he retired the Irish jumped to the benches,
waived their hats and cheered furiously.
After Mr. Rodrick withdrew his statement that the Irish were garrulous and im-precious order was restored.

Mr. Seton-Karr's amendment, which had been quite lost to view in the hubbub, was then rejected by a vote of 251 to 219.

Subsequently on a motion to adjourn
Timothy Healy appealed to Speaker Peel against Chairman Mellor's treatment of Mr. Sexton. The speaker, however, supported Mr. Mellor's decision.

Canada Is Still Free From Pleuro-Pneu-

LONDON, July 12.—Sir Charles Tupper
yesterday received a deputation from Scotland and the north of England in reference to the Canadian cattle trade.

Sir Charles declared that all the facts went to prove that Canada is still free from pleuro-pneumonia and that it was impossible to believe from the case upon which the Board of Agriculture decided that contagious disease existed.

The deputation strongly complained against the action of the board and hinted that unless the restrictions were modified
they may have serious political consequences

Council. Under this amendment the
in the House of Commons would number 48, instead of 88, as proposed by the bill.

John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, replied that this proposal was based on no principle of government,
was the result merely of a desire to curtail the Irish representation in the House and could not be accepted by the Government.

Sir Richard Temple, Conservative, said that even 48 Irish members would be too many.

William Broderick, Conservative, agreed with Sir Richard. The Irish were both impeccable and garrulous, and therein lay two reasons for reducing their representation in the House to a minimum.

Thomas Sexton, anti-Parnellite, interrupted Mr. Broderick to say that such language was grossly impertinent and ought not to be tolerated in the House.

The Unionists shouted "withdraw" and the Irish cheered.

Lord Randolph Churchill suggested that
Mr. Sexton withdraw his words, as Mr.
Broderick's were not intended for him personally.

The chairman told Mr. Sexton that he was out of order and must withdraw his expressions concerning Mr. Broderick's speech.

Mr. Sexton expressed his willingness to obey the chairman in case Mr. Broderick would first express regret for his language.

Timothy Healy, anti-Parnellite, said he regarded Mr. Sexton's attitude as quite justifiable. To call the Irish race impeccable and garrulous was to insult every Irish member who stood by his countrymen.

The Irish cheered, the Unionists shouted
their protests and for two or three minutes
the House was in an uproar.

Chairman Mellor appealed to the members to support him and close the incident.

Mr. Gladstone spoke a few words in favor of the chairman's decision, but added that the person striking the first blow ought to make the first overtures for a reconciliation.

Mr. Balfour said that, acting under his advice, his honorable friend (Mr. Broderick) refused to apologize.

The chairman turned appealingly to Mr.
Sexton, who had been conferring with several of his colleagues on the Irish benches.
Mr. Sexton did not respond, as was expected, to the appeal.

"I am willing to do anything consistent with my duty to please the Prime Minister,"
he said, "but considering the gravity of the insult offered to my countrymen I have decided not to make any apology. I submit myself to the judgment of the committee."

Loud Irish cheers greeted this statement.

The chairman hesitated and finally ordered Mr. Sexton to withdraw.

Mr. Sexton shouted back loudly. "Such a course is unprecedented. Why am I not named and my conduct submitted to the House?"

Irish cheers, Unionist shouts and cries of
"divide" followed this challenge.

The chairman pulled himself together and with more show of spirit than he has made before repeated his order that Mr.
Sexton withdraw.

Mr. Sexton again refused to do so. The Irish cried, "Don't withdraw."

Several of them were on their feet to speak. The Unionists shouted that Mr.
Sexton should be compelled to obey.

In the turmoil the chairman gave his third order that Mr. Sexton withdraw.

Mr. Sexton stuck doggedly to his seat.

The chairman then explained the suspension of members disregarding the authority of the chair. His last words were almost taken from his mouth by Timothy Healy, who exclaimed, "This is a shame. It has never been done before. It is due to Milman."

This reference to Archibald Milman,
clerk assistant in the House, and the immediate inference that he had been coaching Mr. Mellor as to his duties caused a general disturbance. The Unionists shouted derisively, "Who is chairman?" The Irish replied in chorus, "Milman is boss."

Several Liberals called out: "Let the chairman alone."

Mr. Mellor sat helpless through the tumult. As the disorder abated he was again halted by Mr. Sexton, who shouted:
"I am to be the victim of a malicious intrusion of the clerks."

The enquiry was answered only by renewal of the uproar above which could be distinguished cries of "put him out."

Mr. Gladstone appealed to Mr. Sexton to obey the chairman.

Mr. Sexton replied with evident reluctance that he would leave his defence with

and other well-known opponents of Irish Home Rule.

To-day it prints an article written by Lord Salisbury, in which the former Prime Minister makes out a case against Home Rule from an inter-colonial point of view.

Lord Salisbury says he sees two dangers;
the first and most sensible of which is the blow that will be given to India by the granting of Home Rule to Ireland. India,

he declares, is held by the justice of England's rule, though the last resort is always force. The taste for surrender is contagious. It depends upon the answer given to Ireland what shall be given in response to the similar demand which is sure to be made by India.

The second point of danger is the event of a war between Great Britain and another power. An unfriendly executive in Ireland could, in the event of war, cause untold distress by allowing an enemy to procure coal and provisions in Irish ports, and by allowing the coasts to be used as rendezvous for privateers.

In support of this contention Lord Salisbury quotes at considerable length from the work of Captain Mahan, of the United States Navy, on the influence of the sea
power of the French during the revolution.
Though England was "Mistress of the Seas," privateers had captured a large number of British merchantmen.

In conclusion Lord Salisbury says he believes that traditional hatred will impel the Irish to fully use against England any advantage they may secure.

AN IRISH MEMBER FINED.

Convicted of Assaulting a Servant Girl—
A Penalty of $125 Imposed.

LONDON, July 12.—John Deasy, anti-Parnellite member of the House of Commons for West Mayo, was found guilty Tuesday of common assault. He was fined £25 and ordered to pay the costs of the prosecution. Mr. Deasy was placed on trial on the charge of having indecently assaulted a 16-year-old servant girl named Ellen Lewis, lodged.

HERR VON BISMARCK.

Entertains Some Important People And Drinks Old William's Health.

BERLIN, July 12.—Prince Bismarck entertained at luncheon in Friedrichsruhe yesterday 40 secretaries of German chambers of commerce. In responding to the toast of his health, he said that he could bear a great many demonstrations of affection, as he was burdened with a heavy load in hatred. In conclusion, he called upon the company to drink in silence to the memory of Emperor William I., "that ruler who was loved over in the recollection
of the people as a model of magnanimity,
honor and gratitude."

The Berlin correspondent of The Times says of Bismarck's speech Sunday before the excursionists from Lippe: This remarkable speech has attracted much attention. Most newspapers confine themselves to the obvious contrast between Bismarck's present theories and former practices. It is a singular coincidence that he should have addressed his remarks to subjects of a prince who, many years ago, resented an attempt at undue interference on the part of the central government with the bluff protest, in popular dialect—Bismarck has naught to say in the matter.

SLAVE TRADERS THRASHED.

A Gang of Arabs, Under Tippoo Tib's Son,
Put To Rout.

LONDON, July 12.—The Brussels correspondent of The Times says that latest advices from the Congo Free State give an account of another victory over slave-traders. After the battle of Stanley Falls, in which the state troops won a decisive victory, the slave-traders' forces went to Isangi, an Arab fortress at the mouth of the Lomami River. Tippoo Tib's son, Sefu, and his nephew, Kachidi, were in command when the attack on the fortress was made by Commander Chaplin and Captain Forbeck. The Arabs fled and the state troops took possession of the fortress.

ANOTHER GONE.

Jerry O'Donnell of Cronin Fame, Dead at Calumet.

Houghton, Mich., July 12.—Jerry O'Donnell was to have been married at Calumet last Thursday, but at the time set for the ceremony a requiem mass was being sung for him. He died very suddenly.
O'Donnell will be remembered as the man who was sent to the penitentiary for three years for trying to bribe the jury in the Cronin case at Chicago.

they may have serious political consequences
for the Government in Scotland and the north of England.

Hon. Herbert Gardner, President of the Board of Agriculture, says that the decision of the board by no means indicates that the schedule will be permanent.

But it looks as if it would be, for the Board of Agriculture has issued an order, which takes effect forthwith, canceling the orders of April and June securing segregation in slaughter for Canadian cattle under special supervision.

As showing the effect of the restrictions
the prices realized by Canadian animals are in many cases 18 shillings per hundred-weight less than for home cattle of the same quality.

TO BE LAID ON THE TABLE.

Mr. Gardner Will Bring Down the Veterinary Report.

LONDON, July 12.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. W. H. Leng asked Mr.
Gardner to lay on the table of the House
the reports which recently led to his decision regarding the exclusion of Canadian cattle.

Mr. Gardner said he would be glad to accede to Mr. Leng's request, and in doing so, would, as the same time, include the report of the principal veterinary officer.

Home From the Paris Tribunal.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The advance guard of the returning Behring Sea Commission has arrived in the person of Major
E. W. Halford and J. Stanley Brown. Major Halford has formally reported his return to the Department of State and has surrendered his vouchers showing the expenditures made by him on account of the commission up to date, when he turned his balance over to Agent Boster and started for the United States.

Maj. Halford believes the arbitration will be concluded in a shorter time than the three months allowed by the treaty under which the proceedings are being conducted. The impression in Paris, derived from questions put from time to time by the arbitrators during the course of the long argument, is that the arbitration will result in a decision recognizing the property right of the United States in the seals to a more or less limited degree, and recommending some international agreement for the protection of seal life.

WEDDED AGAINST HIS WILL.

A Detroit Married at the Muzzle of a Londoner's Pistol.

DETROIT, July 12.—John Pendergast, jr., who was married to Fannie Naven by Justice Phelan last Saturday, the girl's brother, Patrick Naven, and Naven's gun being the only witness, is a printer, 23 years old. The girl is 21. Her brother is about 27 and is a brakeman on the Grand Trunk. The Navens live in London, Ont., but the girl has been working in Detroit as a house servant for several months past.
Pendergast used to live in London himself,
and knew the Naven family there. Naven and his sister, now Mrs. Pendergast, could not be found to-day, but Pendergast gave this account of the affair:

"It was a clear case of force, and I'm going to see a lawyer about having the marriage set aside. It isn't a legal marriage in the first place. Both Bishop Foley and Judge Phelan told me no
marriage is valid when a man is frightened into it with a gun. In the second place I haven't any love for the girl and don't want her for a wife. She and her brother Pat say I got her in trouble. I don't believe she is in trouble, and anyhow if she is I'm not responsible. She's a good little girl as far as I know, and I'm sorry,
but the trouble is she is dead gone on me.
Why she told Bishop Foley that she would follow me to the end of the world.

"I never met her brother Pat until he came to my boarding house Saturday afternoon. He was trembling with excitement and introduced himself by pointing his gun straight at me and telling me to get my hat and coat and come along and marry his sister. I said, 'Don't get so excited, old boy,' and he said, 'I'm not excited, but if you want to live you just get your hat and coat.' He had me on the hip, you see, with the gun, and I said: 'Well, let us go over and have a talk with the girl.' I tried to slip out into the hall and get my own gun, which was in another coat pocket, but he evidently suspected something and wouldn't let me get four feet away from him. If I had got my gun you can gamble there would have been no marriage. There would have been shooting first.

"Bishop Foley wouldn't marry us because I said I wasn't willing and that I was being forced. He asked me why I didn't run away if I didn't want to marry
the girl, and I told him I didn't have any reason to, as I wasn't to blame if the girl was in trouble. Her brother talked again of shooting when I said this. Bishop Foley told us to go and see Fr. Savage. I live in Fr. Savage's parish. We didn't fare any better there. Fr. Savage refused to marry us, and so we went to Judge Phelan's court. The judge joined us all right. Did I pay him? Well, I should say not! If he got any money Naven gave it to him. I broke away from them just after the marriage and I haven't seen either the girl or her brother since. I don't want to see them.

SLICK BANK ROGUES CAUGHT

TWO BOGUS BOSTON CONCERNS COME TO GRIEF.

They Worked on the Plan of Advising Banks on Paper Bearing a Bank Letter Head That an Agent Would Present a Check Asking Acceptance.

Boston, July 11.—Two bogus concerns, masquerading under different names, came to grief yesterday afternoon by the arrest of two men by police inspectors.

The concerns have been known as "White, Newton & Stockbridge, Bankers and Commercial Brokers," with an office at No. 7 State Street, this city, and "C. H. Thompson & Co., Commission Merchants," with an office at the corner of Chatham-street and Merchant's-row. It is alleged that they have victimized several banks in this and other states.

The names given by the men placed under arrest today are J. P. Fuller 22

THE CAPTAINS NOT TO BE TRIED.
A Denial of the Wholesale Court-Martial story.

LONDON, July 12.—The Globe says it is authorized to deny the published statement to the effect that all the captains of the vessels that took part in recent manoeuvres of the British Mediterranean squadron off Tripoli, Syria, were to be tried by court martial.

PRACTISING AT BISLEY.
The Canadian Riflemen Holding a Series of Practice Matches.

BISLEY, July 12.—The Canadian riflemen are now settled at Bisley. Col. Denison will, during the week, give the team a series of practice matches, in order to assist him in selecting the eight to represent Canada in the Kolapore Cup competition.

The weather is very bad, windy and cloudy.

Missionaries Murdered in China.
SHANGHAI, July 11.—It is reported that a fanatical mob in the Province of Shantung severely maltreated an American missionary a few days ago. The missionaries in Hankow and Shang-Pu are now known to have conspired at the recent murders of Swedish missionaries. The natives, after having mutilated the bodies of the missionaries, hid them and refused to surrender them.

Fatal Floods in the Tyrol.
VIENNA, July 12.—Fatal floods have occurred in the Kulstein and Zillerthal districts in the Tyrol, and it is feared that the damage will be great. In the village of Brixlegg 10 of the villagers are known to have been drowned. Others are missing and it is feared that they have lost their lives in the flood.

Rev. Dr. Campbell's Trial.
MONTREAL, July 11.—Rev. Dr. Campbell, D.D., professor of church history and apologetics in McGill College, appeared before the Montreal Presbytery yesterday charged with heresy. He said he could retract nothing of what he had said in his Kingston address. A committee was appointed to draft a libel against him according to the laws of the church.

Canadian Hay For France.
MONTREAL, July 12.—The bark Marlborough has been chartered out of this port to take a cargo of hay to Havre at 55 shillings. This is the first charter of the kind ever made in Canada, and is made possible by the shortage in the French hay crop. Prices of hay are advancing rapidly in this province, although this is in a great measure due to speculation among exporters.

The Directors Express Sympathy.
WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, July 12.—The Council of Administration met in secret session at the Administration building early yesterday, all the members being present. The horrible catastrophe of yesterday of course necessitated the convening of the council, which held a session of nearly four hours. At the close the only matter made public was a resolution of sympathy.

MEXICANS AND YAQUIS FIGHT.
The Indians Outnumber the Troops and Compel Them to Retreat.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A special to The Times from Hermosillo, Mexico, says: A courier arrived here yesterday from Yaqui Indian country, bringing official information of a desperate battle between the Yaquis and a troop of Mexican cavalry commanded by Lieut. Benito Rochoa, one of the bravest officers of the army. In a fight Lieut. Rochoa was killed. The force of Indians outnumbered the soldiers two to one and the latter were compelled to retreat. The fight took place yesterday in a remote section of the Sierra Madra Mountains, this state. No report has been received here as to the number killed and wounded on either side.

Sir John Abbott's Ill-Health.
MONTREAL, July 11.—The friends of ex-Premier Abbott are becoming rather anxious regarding his health. The removal of Sir John Abbott to his country residence has not proved as beneficial as was hoped. A consultation of his medical advisers has been held but no details are given to the

The names given by the men placed under arrest to-day are J. R. Fuller, 33 years old, claiming a residence at 27 Pinkney-street, and H. E. Arnold, 19 years old, who says his father lives at 416 State-street, Albany, N. Y.

There was a third member in the room when the officers made the arrest, but when he saw the inspectors open the door he jumped from a second story window to the ground and made his escape. It has been their scheme to send letters from their establishment in Chatham-street, under name of C. H. Thompson & Co., to banks under representation that an agent from the house might call at the bank to which letter was addressed and present a check for a few hundred dollars.

It was stated in the letter if this was done it would be all right to give him the cash, as Thompson & Co. said it had a large account with White, Newton & Stockbridge, bankers. To substantiate this claim they enclosed the certificate from bankers showing that they were all secure. They were printed on letter paper bearing heads of the two alleged firms.

Enclosed with the letters would be a fac simile of signature of the agent who would call, both in writing and a stamp impression made from a stamp that he was supposed to carry. All this was done so nicely that in many cases the swindle is said to have worked, but it appears they struck a snag at Springfield and Fall River to-day.

This forenoon Superintendent Eldridge received a communication from the Second National Bank of Springfield asking about the concern, and agreeing to withhold payment until word was received.

Shortly afterward a similar communication was received from a bank at Fall River, and the arrests followed.

The name of the agent who was to call was given as Mr. Royal Freeman, and Arnold admitted to the police that he represented that individual. In Fuller's pockets were found a lot of letters already prepared to be sent to different banks.

AN AMERICAN CONSUL MISSING.
Believed To Have Fled From Fever-Stricken Brazil.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The State Department officials are puzzling over the report brought by the captain of the brig Odorilla from Santos, Brazil, of the fearful epidemic of yellow fever there for months past. Such reports as have been received from the consular officers this year make no mention of the epidemic.

One of these reports was made by Consul Berry on March 3 and it contained news of Henry C. Wadsworth, whom the consul describes as Secretary of the Consulate, but who was really a clerk employed by the consul. Since that date nothing has been heard from Consul Berry, either by the department or by his family, who have been making vain enquiries. The fact that the Odorilla was obliged to sail without consular certificates is taken as an indication that the consul has died or has fled the place.

A successor to his place was named June 28 last in the person of Henry O. Smith, a colored citizen of Alabama, but he has not yet gone to his post.

A MILLMAN'S HORRIBLE DEATH.
Every Bone in His Body Shattered by a Fall.

PITTSBURG, July 11.—John Churchman, an employe of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works at Braddock, fell from the top of furnace "E," a distance of 90 feet, yesterday and was literally crushed into pulp.

Every bone in his body seemed to have been shattered.

He was filling the furnace with crude material, when the gas ignited and a flash of fire drove him back from the furnace. He tumbled down the hoist shaft. He leaves a wife and family. He was 40 years old and had been employed by the company for many years.

CADDO, I. He says they will be shot or he will call out every member of his militia to accomplish that end.

The Choir's Outing.

The excursion given the choir of the Western Methodist church by the choir board on Tuesday to Glen Island and Glenora was attended by about one hundred invited friends. Just before leaving the Island on the return trip, photographer Hulett took two views of the party.

Hard Times.

A farmer in England who formerly lived in Canada, writes as follows: "No doubt you have heard what terrible depression we farmers of England have been passing through. It is properly called the bitter cry of agriculture. My farm has not paid its way since 1874, which was the last good year I knew anything of. Thousands of farmers are entirely ruined and landlords as well, and I cannot see where we are to get any relief. Last year was a cripple and this is going to be worse. No clover and no hay, wheat looking very bad and a lot of the late barley not up. I think this year will settle a lot of us."

For the Horn Fly.

In his admirable address on insect enemies, at the London Convention, Prof. Fletcher gives the following receipt for killing the horn fly: The best remedy is coal oil and soap-suds. These are not difficult things to get. Take soft water, one gallon; boil up in this 1 lb. of soap until it is dissolved. When it has been boiling for a few minutes take it off the stove and pour it into a wash-tub, into which you may put two gallons of coal oil, that is twice as much coal-oil as you have soap-suds. If you have not a garden syringe or spray pump, it will pay you a thousand times over to buy one. Now churn the mixture by working it up with the syringe for five minutes. You then get a thick creamy mixture, which will be of a jelly like consistency when cold, which will keep for a long time. You need not use it all at once. You can make enough for ten years, and set aside until needed. When you want to use it, take as much of the emulsion as you desire and add to it first of all three times the quantity of hot water and it will dissolve, then add twice as much more water; this is in all nine parts of water to one part of emulsion. Three quarts is enough to treat properly a single animal.

$200 Found.

Mr. Editor:—California is a lovely country, the sick get well, the poor get rich, cyclones and frosts are practically unknown. A hundred to three hundred dollars per acre is made each year on fruits with irrigation. The California land and water exchange, of Dayton, O., control large quantities of land in California, which they plant, cultivate for ten years, paying you $40 per acre on one, $200 on five acres each year as your part of the profit, they keeping the balance for the care and cultivation. They give an acre of land away with each 4 certificates. All they ask you to do is to pay for the irrigation, which can be done in small payments each month. They will send you the names of 90 persons who last year received from $25 to $500 on one year's investment. President Harrison says "Half of the good things of California have not been told." The Hon. Jeremiah Rusk says, "Truly California is a poor man's paradise." To five-acre holders the California Land & Water Exchange of Dayton, O., give a free return ticket to view the property and two hundred dollars per year. Why should any one be poor when such a chance remains open and you do not have to do any labor or work, to get the profits and do not have to leave home. Write them to-day and get full particulars. #### Holloway's Ointment and Pills.

More precious than Gold.—Diarrhea, cholera and dysentery are, through the summer's heat, carrying off the young as the winter's cold does the aged. In the most acute cases, where internal medicines cannot be retained, the greatest relief will immediately result from rubbing Holloway's soothing Ointment over the abdomen. The friction should be frequent and brisk, to insure the penetration of a large portion of the Unguent. This Ointment calms the excited peristaltic action and soothes the pain. Both vomiting and griping yield to it; where fruits or vegetables have originated the malady, it is proper to remove all indigestible matter from the bowels by a moderate dose of Holloway's Pills.

Political Meeting.

According to announcement a Reform meeting was held in the town hall on Thursday afternoon last. The attendance was small. The president briefly recited the object of the meeting. Mr. Deroche thought the meeting was a small one, and the notice given not extensive. The question to be considered was whether it was advisable to nominate a candidate at this meeting. Several other gentlemen addressed the meeting. Some thought a candidate should be chosen at once, but as the meeting was small, they did not press their views. After some discussion as to a good date for holding the adjourned meeting, it was moved by Messrs. Herrington and Deroche that it is not desirable to choose a candidate to-day and that the date for such selection be the first Saturday after the municipal elections. The motion carried and the meeting adjourned.

The death of Mrs. Wright.

Mrs. George Wright passed unexpectedly out of the land of the living on Friday morning about 2 o'clock. Her end was very peaceful. For years she had been troubled with a cancer and about two years ago had an operation performed, but through a fall off a rocking chair the cancer returned. At times she would have faint spells caused from heart failure, and it was with one of these spells that she died, just after taking a glass of water and some morphine pills handed to her by her daughter. A few days previously it was noticed that she was failing and her son Fred, who lives in New York City, was telegraphed for Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Fred Wright arrived that same evening, having had a presentment of her mother-in-law's illness. Two daughters and three sons survive. The funeral took place on Sunday at 2.30 p. m. and proceeded from the late residence of deceased to the Eastern Methodist church, where the Rev. Mr. Limbert, of Odessa, preached a very touching sermon. Thence the funeral proceeded to the Vandebogart cemetery where the last and rights were performed.

A Belleville Sensation.

Belleville is very much exercised over a rumor that has been going the rounds the past few days. It is said a sensational affair will shortly become public property involving the names of two parties of highly respected families. The story goes that a commercial traveller well known in the city has overreached all bounds of decency and ruined a young woman who had been employed in his house for the last year or two. The parents and friends of the young woman were unacquainted with her condition and only had their suspicions aroused when her sudden disappearance from the city was learned. The anxiety of the family for the young girl was very great. After the most careful search in the city a hint was dropped that a visit to Kingston might help solve the mystery. The Kingston hospital was visited last week, but the girl was nowhere to be found. Assistance having been procured it was not long until she was located at a private house and the real cause of her absence from Belleville was soon known. When questioned she said she had been brought there by her seducer for treatment, who she claims is no other than the party in whose house she had been employed.

—Mr. Fred Paul is home on a visit to his parents and friends in town.

—Mr. Allen Pringle is returning home for a few days shortly, from the World's Fair.

—Mrs. Chas. Caton, of Ernestown, and daughter, Mrs. John S. Aylsworth, spent a few days last week with Mrs. Harvey James, Napanee.

sons, ranking in age from 123 to 60 years. Twenty seven females and twenty two males were presented to the Bishop by the incumbent of the parish for the Ancient and Catholic rite of confirmation, or laying on of hands. The grandest simplicity and reverence of the service led by the large choir and organist together with the address of the Bishop, masterly in its simplicity, will not soon be forgotten by either candidates or congregation. The order and discipline maintained throughout was very marked, not the least fuss, nor a single mistake to mar the solemnity of the whole proceedings. The bishop's address after saying how very much pleased he was to see such a large and intelligent class presented to him was divided under three heads.

First, he said the candidates should endeavor to become intelligent church people by reading up the history and doctrine so easily done in these days of abundant and cheap books on the subject.

Second, They should become "living" church people by regular attendance at public worship and especially Holy Communion and also by using all the other means of peace God has provided for them.

Third, they should endeavor to show the "life" that is in them by daily life.

The "silent example of a godly life was the greatest argument possible for the Christian religion," and also they should take a deep interest in the great mission of the church which was the spread of the church throughout the world beginning in our own parish.

He asked them to think of the power for good that even the forty nine presented that day could spread over the township if they did their best to live a godly and a christian life. Besides the candidates, about forty received the Holy Communion.

We were glad to see so many present who were not members of the church and only hope they received some benefit from what can only be characterized as a grand service.

Besides the Bishop there were present to assist; Rev. G. A. Anderson who read the preface, Rev. J. R. Serson, who acted as Bishop's chaplain, carrying the Bishop's pastoral staff, Rev. H. B. Patton, Rev. F. T. Dibb, and Rev. F. D. Woodcock, incumbent of the parish. There were seven candidates who were unable to be present from unavoidable causes. We feel sure that the large number confirmed, the large congregation, the beautiful service and the Bishop's weighty and encouraging words will under God's blessing, put new life and vigor into this large and stanch old parish.

The S. Andrew's Brotherhood (St James' chapter) Kingston, have offered the services of three of their men to assist the incumbent, one each Sunday, so that we hope to be able to hold Sunday Services in the out stations as well as the regular services now held. Further particulars later.

THE CHICAGO HOLOCAUST.

Not So Many Lives Lost as First Reported—Bodies Recovered.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, July 1.—Twenty-eight hours after the occurrence of the calamity which shrouded the handsome White City in gloom, the most conservative estimates of the number killed shrink slightly. The dead are now known to be 12, while two sufferers are lying in the emergency hospital gasping away the few hours of life which are yet allotted them. The number of dead include those who died in the hospital from their injuries and the unfortunate whose charred and blackened trunks were taken from the mass of debris whereon yesterday stood a handsome white-washed structure.

The unknown dead will probably never be known, but efforts will be made to-morrow by the aid of powerful machinery to lift the network of freezing pipes, allowing the firemen to delve deeper for the remains, which, it is conceded by all, are certainly wedged below. Probably by noon to-morrow the anxiously awaited truth will have been reached.

At daylight yesterday Marshal King and 20 laborers were at work on the ruins. They used their implements well, and by 7 o'clock three bodies were recovered from the ruins, but they were so badly charred and disfigured as to make recognition absolutely impossible.

One thing seems quite evident, however, and that is that the bodies discovered are not the remains of firemen. The locality in which they were found seems to preclude this possibility.

All the firemen who lost their lives were huddled in the dreadful fire trap at the top of the shaft, and as they fell victims one by one to the flames their bodies fell somewhere within the small circle surrounding the smokestack. Those recovered yesterday were evidently not the remains of any who jumped or fell from the tower because they were found at a somewhat remote distance from this point and under a mass of steampipe and machinery that must have fallen from above.

That gives color to the fearful apprehension that the firemen were by no means the only ones who fell victims to the flames and the public are disposed to doubt the declarations that the employees and visitors were out of the building before the conflagration had reached a dangerous stage.

The search work went on with but one short intermission until 4.10, when one more body was brought to the surface.

It was charred beyond recognition. The only remnant of clothing left was a patch of linen, the size of a hand, which clung to the small of the back of the victim. The body was taken to the morgue.

At 5 o'clock the picks of the workmen let light in on another body. It was found just under the edge of the network of the pipes and was extracted with difficulty. As identification was out of the question the body was taken to the morgue. This makes the total number of bodies recovered 12. There are reports to the effect that Henry Geduldig, foreman of the paintmen in the cold storage building, is missing, together with a carpenter, John Campbell, but many others who were thought to have been lost have turned up. Marshal Murphy has convinced that there are more bodies in the ruins. He said yesterday: "We have accounted for the firemen and a lineman. But what of those carpenters and painters?" made on the unsafe condition of the building the chief said Guard Edly: The Joint was full of men when I went up there, and I noticed particularly two men carrying little blast stoves used in soldering. They, as was the case with the carpenters, did not realize the extent of the danger and were standing around.

In regard to the reports he had I corresponded in my official capacity only with Mr. Burnham, director of works. I have sent him three letters in regard to the condition of the buildings and have reported to him after each one of the four fires and recommended that something be done at once to prevent a recurrence of the affair.

—Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsville, Ind., says:—"I had been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia and Indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which done me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely remedy: a few bottles of it cured me completely. I consider it the greatest medicine in the world." A trial bottle will convince you. Sold by Detlor & Fullerton, Druggists.
